THE JONSSON
CANCER
CENTER

Foundation

The Jonsson Cancer Center Foundation (JCCF) exists for the primary purpose of raising and distributing funds for cancer research at UCLA. Fiduciary responsibility for charitable gifts made to the JCCF rests with its 52-member board of directors, a respected group of business and community leaders who are deeply committed to the cancer center's research mission.

The JCCF offers the following diversified range of giving opportunities:

- Major and Planned Gifts
- Special Gifts
- Participation in Events
- Community Activities

Major and Planned Gifts

The JCCF actively welcomes significant contributions for vital research priorities identified by the cancer center leadership. Donors can choose to direct gifts to research in specific types of cancer, and appropriate naming opportunities are available. Assets that can be given include cash, appreciated securities, qualified retirement plan assets, and real estate.

Planned gifts that will support cancer research in the future can also be made to the JCCF. Examples of planned gift arrangements include:

- Wills or living trusts
- Charitable remainder trusts
- Charitable lead trusts
- Charitable gift annuities
- Pooled income funds
- Gifts of homes

Utilizing sound principles of estate planning, donors who make these gifts to the JCCF can receive lifetime income, continued use of gift property, avoidance of capital gains taxes, immediate income tax deductions, and estate tax savings.

Special Gifts

Lifeline Connection
Annual gifts of $1,000 or more provide one of the JCCF's most vital means of support. Donors at this level make possible some of the cancer center's highest priority research initiatives, and gain membership in the Lifeline Connection. This dedicated cadre of contributors keeps abreast of the latest advances in cancer research at the JCCC through InfoLLC, a free electronic news service exclusively for Lifeline Connection members. They also are invited to the cancer center's Annual Donor Recognition Dinner and JCCF board of directors meetings.

Seed Grants are an outstanding example of how important needs are funded through Lifeline Connection gifts. Seed grants are like venture capital. They provide start-up funds for investigator-initiated projects of the JCCC's best and brightest researchers. Tomorrow's breakthrough discoveries often result from these innovative beginnings.

Tributes and Memorial Gifts Program
Monetary gifts at all levels assist the cancer center in achieving its mission. Donors can honor friends or relatives by making gifts in any amount to the JCCF's Tributes and Memorial Gifts Program. The JCCF sends a card of celebration or sympathy to acknowledge each contribution.

Participation in Events

Events increase awareness and provide fund-raising opportunities for JCCF volunteers and corporate partners by creating avenues that promote the work of the cancer center in the community.

Epicurean Evening
This exclusive annual fundraiser supports the highest priority cancer research initiatives at the cancer center while bringing together some of the country's most celebrated chefs. In the recent past, this event has featured such chefs as Daniel Boulud of Daniel & Café Boulud in New York, Charlie Trotter of Charlie Trotter's in Chicago, Francois Payard of Payard's in New York, Michael McCarty of Michael's in Santa Monica and New York, Michael Mina of Aqua in San Francisco, and fine wines from Far Niente Vineyard. This special evening attracts both food and wine aficionados as well as corporate partners and other guests who are committed to cancer research at UCLA.
