Wear a Bald Cap to Fight Cancer on Oct. 21, 2011

If you would feel embarrassed to be bald for a day, imagine how much more difficult it is for our cancer patients who lose their hair without the choice. As a beneficiary of the event and in solidarity with those being affected by cancer, join the UCLA Fights Cancer team for Be Bold, Be Bald!, pledging to wear bald caps for the day on Oct. 21.

Smokers with Comorbid Conditions Need Their Doctor's Help to Quit

A new study led by JCCC researcher Michael Ong has found that smokers who also have alcohol, drug and mental disorders would benefit greatly from smoking cession counseling from their primary care physicians, and would be five times more successful at kicking the habit.
